Our Translation Services (Accurate Communication in Any Language)

The backbone of Translations.co.uk is our wide range of translation and localisation services, enabling you to communicate with global audiences in their own language.

With native linguists for over 300 language combinations, we provide expert translation in every major international language. Our services include:

Document Translation: We translate all types of business and personal documents, including manuals, reports, contracts, presentations, letters and more. Our translators adeptly handle technical terminology, formatting and style needs for perfect localisation.

Website Translation: We offer comprehensive website localisation, translating your web content, functionality and design elements into other languages. This ensures a consistent brand experience and a smooth user journey for international visitors.

Software Localisation: We have vast expertise in software localisation, adapting your software, apps, interfaces, help files and documentation for international users. Our engineers seamlessly handle coding languages and software development platforms.

Multimedia Translation: Our specialised translators localise multimedia content, including videos, audio, eLearning courses, animations and games in any language while retaining meaning and synchronisation.

Interpreting: We provide live, in-person and remote interpreting services for meetings, conferences, events and business discussions. Our professional interpreters enable smooth communication in over 300 languages.

Transcription and Translation: We transcribe audio/video files and interviews, then translate the transcripts into other languages accurately.

Whether you need an urgent translation or an ongoing project, Translations.co.uk is your one-stop language partner.

Why Choose Professional Translation?

Translations.co.uk provides immense value over direct word-for-word translation through free online tools or non-expert translators. Our rigorous screening and proven expertise ensures:

Native Language Fluency: Our translators are native speakers, ensuring the correct linguistic and cultural nuances in each language. This level of fluency cannot be replicated by non-natives.

Subject Matter Expertise: We match your content with translators experienced in your specific industry and subject matter. This specialised knowledge ensures the accuracy of complex, technical terminology.

Localisation Expertise: Our translators go beyond direct translation to adapt your content for cultural relevance in each target country, from formatting preferences to idioms.

Consistent Terminology: We maintain glossaries and translation memories to ensure consistency across your content in each language.

Multiple Quality Checks: Each project goes through multiple proofreading and quality checks by senior linguists, identifying any possible errors.
Project Management: Our end-to-end project management handles source file preparation, glossary creation, queries and delivery seamlessly.

This rigour results in nuanced, culturally adapted translations tailored for your international audiences. It eliminates any possibility of errors or inconsistencies due to direct translation.

This breadth of language capability allows you to reach diverse global audiences from major markets to niche locales. Our project teams seamlessly manage high-volume multilingual projects across 10+ languages.

We also maintain robust processes to validate translator credentials and language proficiency through testing, certifications and ongoing evaluations. This ensures you receive highly accurate content.

Translations.co.uk understands that translations require expertise beyond language proficiency. Our translators specialise in diverse fields and industries, including:

Subject Matter Expertise

- Legal: Contracts, litigation, patents, financial regulations
- Medical: Clinical trial documentation, medical devices, research papers
- Technical: Engineering, software, IT, electronics
- Business: Marketing materials, reports, PR, communications
- Financial: Banking, investment, insurance documentation
- Manufacturing: Manuals, datasheets, warranties, compliance
- Automotive: Repair manuals, parts catalogs, infotainment systems
- Retail: Product descriptions, catalogs, ecommerce content
- Travel: Guides, brochures, websites, apps
- Media/Entertainment: Scripts, subtitles, graphics, animation

We carefully screen translators for each industry, assessing their subject matter expertise. Our specialised teams understand precise terminology, formatting conventions and cultural nuances within each field.

This expertise ensures your industry-specific content is adapted accurately in all languages, avoiding mistranslations of key terms or details. It provides peace of mind that your global content is clinically, technically or legally sound.

Technology Powered Process

Translations.co.uk utilises advanced translation technology and tools to deliver projects with speed, accuracy and efficiency. Our key technologies include:

Translation Memory (TM): Our powerful TM retains previous translations, recycling content for consistency across projects. This increases efficiency by up to 50%.

Terminology Management: We maintain client glossaries and approved terminology databases to ensure consistent phrasing across all languages.

Computer-Aided Translation (CAT): Our linguists use CAT tools that provide instant suggested translations from our TMs, boosting productivity.

Machine Translation + Post-Editing: We combine machine translation with human editing for faster turnaround on high-volume content while retaining quality.

Application Programming Interfaces (APIs): Our technology integrates seamlessly with client systems through APIs for content transfer, terminology management, etc.

Project Management Platforms: Our PM platforms provide real-time project tracking, query management, role-based collaboration and file sharing for transparency.

Cloud-Based Security: We utilise secure cloud-based tools and encrypted file transfer to protect client data and IP.

These tools enable us to deliver high-quality translated content faster. They also allow us to handle large, complex projects across multiple languages efficiently.

Quality Assurance

Translations.co.uk follows stringent processes to ensure consistently high-quality translations:

Recruitment: We thoroughly screen translators for native proficiency subject credentials and test their skills. Only 1 in 25 candidates pass our exams.

Project Management: Dedicated PMs proficiently prepare source files, share glossaries, assign specialised resources and oversee timelines.

Proofreading: A separate senior linguist will proofread all translated content to double-check for errors in meaning, context, grammar or style.

Quality Assurance: We have a robust QA methodology, including inline editing, multiple reviews and feedback loops with translators.
Formatting: Our DTP specialists seamlessly integrate translated text into original document .

Ongoing Training: Our translators undergo regular evaluation and skills development training on tools, processes and linguistics.

Trust and Security

Secure File Transfer: We utilise encrypted file transfer tools as well as password-protected, temporary portals for content.

Confidentiality Agreements: Our employees and linguists sign comprehensive NDAs and confidentiality agreements.
